tree, the all - ho - ly Cross today is raised up on high and shown to the world. All the ends of the earth give glo - ry; all the demons are struck with [terror.]

ter - ror. Oh, what a gift is be-stowed on mor - tals. Through the Cross, save our souls, O Christ, // as You alone are com - pas - sion - ate!

Sticheron 2

Oh, most glo - ri - ous won - der! The Cross that car-ried the Most High like a cluster of grapes filled with life today is seen raised a - bove the earth.

Through this we have all been drawn— to God, and death is fi - nal - ly swal - lowed up. O, im - mac - u - late Wood!

Through you we enjoy the immortal food of E - den //

as we give glo - ry to Christ!

Sticheron 3

Oh, most glo - ri - ous won - der! The length and breadth of the Cross is equal to heav - en, for by divine grace it sanc - ti - fies the u - ni - verse. By the Cross, pagan na - tions are o - ver - come. By the Cross the sceptres of kings are firmly es - tab - lished. O divine ladder, by [which we go up...]

which we go up to heav - en, // exalting Christ the Lord in song!
